

By Natalia Grenier

My name is Natalia.

I am trans.

I want to change our community.

There are a bunch of trans and gay and bi people.

I want to say something.

There are so many people who struggle coming out as gay, trans and bi.

A lot of people do not support them.

I support all of them.

I know the struggle of coming out. It takes guts to come out.

I do not like how people discriminate. We need to change that.

I love all people no matter their sexuality.

People need to support gay and trans and bi communities.

I know how to change that. We fight for them.

Let's fight together.

My word needs to get out.

People need love.

I know we can do it.

Let's give gay and trans people more support.

Let's do it.

Love is love.
